TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION PLAN MONSTER PAGEANT

On the afternoon of April seventh, at three o'clock, the teachers' association of Bulloch county will present the historical pageant, "Georgia," on the court house square in Statesboro. The story is very interesting and unusual account of the history of our state from the landing of Oglethorpe to the present day. There are over one hundred and fifty characters in the play, and these parts will be played by many of the most prominent people in our county.

The entire southern side of the court house square will be used as a mammoth stage, and the audience will be placed on the street and sidewalk of East Main street. The music for the pageant will be arranged by the Statesboro Orchestra, and they will have the assistance of many other musicians in Statesboro. This will be the first affair of the kind ever staged in Bulloch county, and those in charge are very optimistic over the plans thus far. The response from those asked to take part has been gratifying and every plan has worked out successfully.

The pageant should attract every school child in the county, as this day will be a holiday with the country schools. Should each school be represented in full, Statesboro will be host to more than four thousand children. The teachers association is anxious to have every citizen of the county see this feat, as it is to be a whole county affair. There will be no charge of any kind, and everybody is urged to be present.

MUSIC STUDY CLUB.
The Music Study club met with Miss Irene Arden Wednesday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock at her home on Grady street.

The program was opened with two piano numbers: (a) Spring Song (Heller), (b) Lullaby (Charmade). By Mrs. A. W. Quattlebaum. Carmen was the opera study for the afternoon, conducted by Mr. Carwell. Miss Jones gave a biographical sketch of Bizet. Victrola records added greatly to the entertainment and instructiveness of the afternoon.

Whipped cream on sliced bananas and delicious nut cake were served after the program. Miss Anne Groover and Miss Agnes Chatter were guests of the club.

The next meeting will be with Misses Foy and Jones, at the Agricultural school.

BIBLE STUDY CLASS.
The Bible study class will meet Monday afternoon at four o'clock at the Methodist church. Mission study and Bible study are the foundation of all missionary activity, the key to missionary efficiency. Motives in Bible study, "Our Love for God; We Love Him Because He First Loved Us." So we ask that all members come to these meetings.

Song, "O God of Christian Soldiers." Prayer—Mrs. J. F. Jones. Roll call.

Leader—Mrs. Jay. Lesson discussion by members of class.

Closing prayer—Mrs. Flanders.

SAVANNAH INAUGURATES A SPRING BUYERS WEEK

A plan which embodies elements of constructive value is that of the wholesale merchants and manufacturers of Savannah, who are just now extensively advertising a Spring Buyers Week to be held April 3-10 inclusive.

The advance publicity put out for this occasion, in the form of newspaper advertising and mail literature, reflects a broad spirit of cooperation on the part of Savannah business men and indicates that they desire to do more than merely to sell goods. It would appear that they invite a closer co-operation, a stimulation of keeping southern money in the south, saving on freight rates, and that they are endeavoring to demonstrate their announced policy of rendering service to those who do business with them.

If retail merchants in the Savannah territory can get what they want at the right price from Savannah—if they can save money on freight and avoid the tie-up of capital which might result from sending orders to distant markets—if they can trade near home and keep their money in circulation in the territory—then the Savannah Buyers Week looks like a mighty good thing and ought to be well worth while attending.

Any plan which is of mutual profit to the wholesaler and retailer and which enables the latter to practice economy is good for business in general, and the Savannah people seem to have hit on an excellent plan.

BEGIN DRIVE SUNDAY FOR CENTENARY FUND

Nashville, Tenn., March 21.—A simultaneous effort throughout Southern Methodist territory, on March 21, to be known as "World Sunday," will be made, call the attention of diligent subscribers to the Centenary of mission, movement of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, to a short-ago in collections on behalf of that movement.

It is expected that on "World Sunday" pastors of the 18,000 church congregations in Southern Methodist will revive the Centenary theme and portray the disastrous results to the big missionary program launched three years ago if the deficit is not made good. Cash payments on overdue Centenary subscriptions will be solicited on "World Sunday" and during the following week a church-wide canvass will be made to secure the payment of arrearages.

MOULTRIE HEN SOARS IN PROPHETIC REALMS

NATIVES PUZZLE OVER THE EGGS—ACT SIGNIFICANCE OF INSCRIPTION ON EGG.

Moultrie, Ga., March 23.—Down around Ellen's place, where the section of Colquitt the folks are all talking about the message just received from a hen, which is a member of a flock owned by Joe Hall, a farmer living in that vicinity.

The message, which some assert solemnly is a prophecy, came via a perfectly natural looking egg, with the exception of the written words that appear on the outside of the shell in slightly raised and clearly discernible letters. These words are given to a Moultrie newspaper man over the telephone by the operator at Ellen's place, read as follows: "Jesus is coming soon."

According to this same informant, the egg but subjected it to a close examination, the letters could not have been scratched on the shell by any kind of mechanical contrivance. Now whether the hen has any kind of writing machine as part of her inner workings, the operator said that he was unprepared to say. He did declare, however, that the writing was Spencerian style and easily read.

The egg has been viewed by hundreds of people and the owner has been offered a good price for it but has refused to sell. It seems that the hen that produced the egg which has excited that section of Colquitt is a rather serious-minded hen anyway, for much thinking on things religious, for she laid an egg with a verse from the Bible written on it. Not being much of a student of that book the operator declared he could not quote it.

He also stated that to show that some folks were taking the warning seriously, he said the teacher of a Sunday-school class here Sunday said that while it was written that no man could say when Jesus would come again, it didn't say that the information wouldn't be revealed to a hen.

Members of the jury stated after they had heard the testimony that they stood 11 for conviction of murder in 1 for acquittal, thirty minutes after they reached their room Thursday afternoon, and this vote remained until they were dismissed.

O. H. Williams, one of the jurors, is said to have been the juror who stood out for acquittal.

Judge Strange discussed the matter of a change of venue with counsel for the state and defense, but on the decision was arrived at or no agreement entered into regarding the question.

It was argued by counsel for the prosecution that the case at Statesboro was a case of murder, because E. K. Overstreet, leading counsel for the defense, lives at this place. Statesboro was objected to by the defense because it is the home of R. Lee Moore, leading counsel for the prosecution. It was finally agreed that Springfield would be a neutral place for the trial, but Judge Strange suggested that it would entail too much expense for witnesses to go to Springfield, and he thought the best thing to do would be to transfer the case to Waynesboro.

The matter will be taken under advisement and settled at an early date, the court stated.

Millen has been agog from the inception of the trial until the jury was dismissed this afternoon. The alleged crime has created more interest in the county than any since the Goodbee trial several years ago.

The jury was composed of the following: C. G. Oglesby, Jack Cowart, L. B. Hall, W. C. Clark, O. H. Williams, D. B. Forehand, Melvin Johnson, B. F. Lanier, R. Y. Lane, W. J. Forehand, J. T. Boland and W. M. Parker.

As an evidence of the desire to help the farmers of the county avail themselves of the benefits offered by the recent establishment of the local creamery, announcement has been made that the banks of Statesboro are ready to lend every reasonable aid in the purchase of dairy cattle for those who may need help.

C. E. Oliver, who is a member of the Statesboro Advertising Club, stated that he has discussed the matter with the heads of some of the banks, and that there will be no difficulty in financing the movement to the extent of $10,000 or more on the very easiest terms.

It is pointed out that two or three good milk cows bought on credit would quickly pay for themselves at the same time they are helping to develop the farm. Those who are interested in the matter are urged to talk the subject over with the manager of the local creamery and then see their bank for such help as they may require.

STIRRING PROGRAM AT AD CLUB DINNER

MEMBERS RETURNED TO NORMAL AFTER SENSATIONAL BATTLE OF WEEK BEFORE.

It was a lively and interesting meeting of the Ad Club held Monday night at the first since the sensational affair of a week before when the dinner at the Agricultural school was unceremoniously disrupted by the fake shooting affair between Bickers and Sutlive, the visiting editors from Savannah.

Secretary G. P. Donaldson presided at the Monday dinner, President McCroan and Vice-President Baumgard both still being under cloud from the week preceding. Himself having fully recovered, Mr. Donaldson was in a happy mood and the occasion was a most delightful one.

While there was no fixed program, the following has been outlined as exceedingly appropriate and full of significance:

First—Just Before the Battle, Mother—Chas. P. Olin.

Vocal two-step, "Jerusalem, My Happy Home, Oh! How I Long for Thee"—I. Weitz, M. Baumgard.

Pantomime, "Open the Beautiful Door for Me and Let Me Out"—R. F. Lester.

Solo, "Will There Be Any Homes in My Hide"—D. C. Smith.

Duet, "Is There Room Under the Table for a Poor Sinner Like Me?"—W. E. McDougald and L. M. McKel.

Reading, "Shoot, Luke, or Give up the Gun"—Leroy Cowart.

Solo, "Oh, How Long for Wings to Fly With"—Harvey Brannen.

Pantomime, "When My Hair Stood on End"—A. M. Deal.

Quartet, "Ain't There a Safe Place for a Boy Like Me?"—Lovell Anderson, Chorus, "Tain't No Disgrace to Run When You Get Scared"—J. B. McCroan, B. A. Trappnell, W. J. Ruckley, A. B. Green, P. G. Franklin, J. H. Brett, Henry C. Cone, J. L. Matthews and others.

Dissertation, "The Beauties of the Vast Open Country"—Rev. W. T. Granade.

Essay, "Spin Curvature and Scared Clubmen"—Dr. Spring, the chiropractor.

Pantomime, "Every Little Movement Has a Meaning All Its Own"—Dr. J. L. Lester.

Debate, "Resolved, 'Twere far better to crawl before you're shot than to wish you had afterwards.'"—Pete Donaldson, G. J. Mays, Harold Arlett, S. W. Lewis, J. L. Renfro, Cliff Fordham, S. C. Groover, J. O'Brien, A. A. Darnall and others; nobody for the resolution.

The program will be conducted at successive club meetings.

CAR LEFT ON ROAD IS STRIPPED OF TIRES
A Ford car driven by the children of W. L. Zetterow, in coming to and from their country home in school in Statesboro, went lame on the road last Thursday afternoon as the children were on their way home. Leaving it where it stood, the children proceeded homeward by some other means. Six hours later, the same night, when Mr. Zetterow went out to drag the balky machine home, he was amazed to find that the tires were practically new and, naturally the loss is nothing trivial. Mr. Zetterow stated that he had accurate information as to who robbed his car, but so far has taken no steps toward a prosecution of the guilty parties.

NOTICE TO TEACHERS.
The last issue of the school page for the scholastic year will be published soon.

Let every school in the county contribute something this time, and let's have the most interesting school page that has been published yet.

Don't fail to get your contributions in by April 8. Leave them with Miss Lester or mail them to the chairman of the school page committee, Thanks, ALLIE M. STEVENSON, Chrmn., School Page Committee.

We shall velvet beans, peas or peas any day except Saturday. McDUGALD, OUTLAND & CO., (23mar28c) Clito, Ga.

MISTRIAL CALLED IN CHANCE MURDER CASE

JURY WAS UNABLE TO AGREE AFTER TWENTY-FOUR HOURS' DELIBERATION.

Millen, Ga., March 24.—Judge H. B. Strange declared a mistrial this afternoon in the case of the state against R. H. Chance, one of the five charged with murder of Watson Allen Galt, Christmas, about five miles from here.

The case went to the jury at 5 o'clock Thursday afternoon, and Friday noon the jury sent word to Judge Strange that they could not agree, and the judge instructed the sheriff to tell them to enter into further deliberation. About 2:15 this afternoon the jury requested the court to recharge them on the law of manslaughter and justifiable homicide, which was done, and in addition, a full charge was given them.

At 4:30 o'clock this afternoon, Judge Strange called the jury back to the court room and inquired if they had reached a verdict, and upon being informed that they had not, declared a mistrial and dismissed them for the term, and adjourned this session of court.

Members of the jury stated after they had heard the testimony that they stood 11 for conviction of murder in 1 for acquittal, thirty minutes after they reached their room Thursday afternoon, and this vote remained until they were dismissed.

O. H. Williams, one of the jurors, is said to have been the juror who stood out for acquittal.

BULLOCH TIMES

AND

The Statesboro News

D. B. TURNER, Editor and Owner

Entered as second-class matter March 28, 1905, at the postoffice at Statesboro, Ga., under the Act of Congress March 3, 1879.

CHEWING GUM IN FRANCE.

Sales of chewing gum in France, according to a report to the U. S. Department of Commerce, have exceeded in value 1,000,000 francs. Chewing gum was hardly known in France before the war, and Frenchmen refused to believe, it is stated, reports of the great quantities of it consumed in the United States. With the arrival of the American troops, however, commissaries and canteens were well supplied with all the popular brands of gum, and were liberally patronized by the soldiers, ocular demonstration of the joys of gum chewing was given and the French "polius" soon acquired the habit. Two American chewing gum factories have been established in Paris and instituted an advertising campaign of which the distribution of free gum was a feature, with much success, as far as sales are concerned, though it is stated that so far the financial results have not been great.

HOLES IN THE CONSTITUTION.

Nineteen times since the framing and adoption of the constitution of the United States, the people have been called upon to make amendments to the original document. New holes show up constantly, and they have to be plugged. A few weeks ago President Harding advocated in his message, the twentieth amendment to the constitution in order to check the increasing volume in tax empty securities. There isn't the same thrill about tax matters as was found in other previous reasons for changing the constitution, when a check was placed on the drinking of booze, and when suffrage was granted to women; or even when the election of United States Senators was left to the people to decide by direct vote.

Nevertheless, the new constitutional amendment would remedy a pernicious and growing evil. Philip H. Gadsden of Philadelphia, one of the country's clearest thinkers, argued this proposed constitutional amendment at some length before the Committee on Ways and Means of the House of Representatives. "Suppose I was in your state," he told the committee chairman, "and I was worth a million dollars, and you issued the tax-exempt securities and I invested half of my income in tax-exempt securities, so that I did not contribute anything to the state government at all?" And according to Mr. Gadsden that is just what a lot of rich men and women are doing; investing in gilt-edge securities that have been especially exempted from taxation in order to make them desirable for people who have surplus money that they want to put to work with the least possible physical and mental exertion.

In order to carry on the railroads, public utilities and telephone and telegraph business of the country, it is necessary to raise nearly $2,000,000,000 of new money a year. Mr. Gadsden points out that with a rate of return limited on public utilities to eight per cent in the majority of instances, and with municipal bonds yielding 4.50 per cent, an investor should be a surfeit of over 10 per cent cannot afford to buy public utilities securities. He concludes that this means that all capital obtained by public utilities from private investors under these conditions must come from individuals, having a taxable income of $15,000 or less per year. Such a restriction makes it quite impossible for the public utilities to interest the heavy investors—hence the trouble that we hear so much about whenever these semi-public institutions and industries are discussed.

According to President Harding nearly twenty billions of dollars in tax-exempt securities are in existence. That means, clearly, that this vast sum of wealth is escaping taxation, and that rich tax-dodgers are having things made easy for them by a system which has grown and grown until it has become a menace. It stands to reason that if the very rich could pay the rest of the people of the country are paying it for them.

Congressman McCadden of Pennsylvania, in commenting on the condition says that the time will come, unless the evil of issuing tax exempt securities is checked, when half of the people of the country will be paying the entire burden of taxes of the other class; "that class best able to pay will be relieved from the payment of taxes."

Mr. McCadden also points out the seriousness of the situation when he says that "the continuation of the present tax exemption system will ultimately lead to the complete tax exemption of monies and credits and to the imposition of heavier taxes upon farms and other lands."

SLASH IS PROPOSED IN U. S. ROAD AID

LARSSEN TELLS OF MOVE BY CONGRESSIONAL COMMITTEE TO REDUCE APPROPRIATIONS.

Washington, March 28.—According to information emanating from the committee on roads of the house yesterday, Georgia will suffer a material cut-back in her next year's program of improvement of public highways, in that federal aid through appropriations will be greatly lessened. Judge W. W. Larsen, of Georgia, who is a member of the roads committee, gave out the statement that at a meeting of that body during the day Chairman Dunn, republican of New York, recommended a three-year program of $40,000,000, $50,000,000 and $60,000,000 appropriation for the three succeeding years, respectively. The present appropriation on the subject of $75,000,000 annually, and Georgia's allotment under the fund is approximately $1,997,972 for the fiscal year.

It is pointed out that if even a recommendation of $50,000,000 is made, the state will lose approximately one-third of the present sum available from the federal government. This reduction, it is said, will act to hinder present highway improvements in Georgia, and may influence the coming legislature in action upon the bond issue to match allowance under the $75,000,000 fund, which will be increased to $150,000,000 in 1923.

Significant at this time is the telegram received by Judge Larsen today from W. R. Neel, state highway engineer calling upon the state delegation to use all influence possible in having the available federal sum increased, explaining that the state of Georgia would be in position to utilize its full quota of $150,000,000 appropriation by the following year. In his telegram Mr. Neel mentioned the great progress that has been made by the local highway commission on road construction, which, according to official figures, has placed Georgia among the twelve most progressive states in the Union in this line.

On behalf of the entire delegation, Congressman Larsen assured him in reply that every effort would be made for the maintenance of the present fund.

From the attitude taken by Chairman Dunn of the committee, however, it is thought that a bill will be brought out naming the reduced program mentioned. The chairman announced that he would select a subcommittee of five from the whole body whose purpose it would be to investigate factors involved and report back recommendations. Members of the committee have pointed out that naturally Representative Dunn's selection would be made from those members sharing his viewpoint on the subject.

At a conference held between President Harding and highway leaders recently, the chief executive is said to have expressed himself as favoring a slight increase over that which is proposed by Mr. Dunn. The president is said to be in favor of $50,000,000 for the first year, $60,000,000 for the second year and $75,000,000, the present amount, for the third. This kind of bill is also thought to be favored by a number of republicans of the house, as well as the senate, before whom this measure will have to be introduced before becoming law.

Democratic advocates of increased federal aid to the states in the enterprise have made the assertion that the administration would be held responsible for any attempt to force backward steps in what might otherwise be constructive legislation. Even though a majority of the house republicans are thought to be willing to vote in favor of a reduction of state roads funds for the purpose of playing up the lessened total expenditures of the party, democrats believe that there will be enough of the progressive middle western element sharing their viewpoint to put in the increased program over, or to at least continue the current legislation.

With reference to the state end of a decided interest in the outcome, because Georgia is listed as one of the few states in the Union which have been able to secure the full benefits of the plant through its having complied with regulations requiring an equal amount being provided by local bond issue.

We shall velvet beans, peas or peanuts, any day except Saturday.

Friday—Pa is all ways getting in bad with sum 1 and he is making me get gray headed for she is all ways a worrying for fear he is going to make a bad brake whether he does or not. This evening pa and ma including me was out taking a walk and then we dropped in to see Mr. and Mrs. Benson, and they shuk hands and sed how delighted they was to see us. And then pa smiled and sed Well we are out seeing the sights so we thought we wood drop in and see you fokes a little.

Saturday—This afternoon ma cum running in the front door and told me to call the Marshal and tell him that they was two men having a fight out in front of are house. I run to the phone and called central but before the operator dissided to operate, 1 man was licked and the other 1 was gone.

Sunday—This was Mishunary day at Sunday skool and they ast us kids to put all we cud in to help clothe the poor Russian children. Blisters put in a Button which he sed he new cud be put to a good use as you cant make close without a plenty of Buttons.

Monday—Had a cold and after skool was out ma sent me to the drug store to buy sum Caster oil. But you cant never tell weather it will do any good so I bot sum linickerish instead. Witch wasent all I got when I cum home, that is the reason I am in my room so early.

Tuesday—Pa brot home a noose-papper man tonite for supper and pa and he was discussing different things and etc. and he ast pa if he thot it was possible for a man to love 2 women at the same time and pa replied sed Not if they knew it.

Wednesday—Went to a dinner party tonite and they had a lot of spoons and forks and knives layed out along side of your plate and I got a long side of mine because I run out of tools before they handed out the desert to us. Witch was very embarrassing to say the lease.

Thursday—I rote Jane a pome, I sed—The rose is red,
The Shamrock's green,
Yure the prettiest girl
I ever seen.
She grined and rote back to me—
The stuff you rote on paper
Is the worst I ever hrd.
I woodnt be surprized to hear
You got caught by a early bird.

"INDISPENSABLE AFTER 9 YEARS INTERNAL BATHING"

Mr. Addison I. Williams, Box 1054, Sanford, Fla., writes Tyrrell's Hygienic Institute of New York as follows:

"Regarding the 'J. B. L. Cascade,' I feel it is one of the indispensable articles and should be in every home. I have not taken $10 worth of medicine since obtaining it—about nine years.

You can be free from biliousness and constipation with all the ailments which they produce, by an occasional Internal Bath. The 'J. B. L. Cascade' administered three or four times a day, it being an invention of Chas. A. Tyrrell, M. D., of New York, for 25 years a specialist on internal bathing.

By the proper application of Nature's cure—warm water—it keeps the lower intestine free of all poisonous waste, and permits every function to work in harmony and without clogging—hence, makes one consistently bright, capable and well.

W. H. Ellis Co. will gladly explain to you the simple operation of the 'J. B. L. Cascade' why it is so successful in its results and will give you free of cost, an interesting little book containing the results of the experiences of Dr. Chas. A. Tyrrell of New York, who was a specialist on Internal Complaints for 25 years in that capacity. Why not cut this out as a reminder to get this book as soon as possible. Remember, please, it is free—Advt.

PRAETORIANS FORM STRONG ORGANIZATION

The Praetorians, a national fraternal benefit society with headquarters in Dallas, Texas, formed a local organization here Friday night with about thirty-five charter members present.

The charter list of members was secured by R. W. Sasser, district deputy for the order, and the institution of the council was under the direction of the state manager, A. L. Hanks, of Macon.

Every member was delighted with the work, and each pledged State Manager Hanks their hearty co-operation in building the Praetorian order here to a large membership.

Mr. Hanks stated that he had recently made a visit to practically every section of south Georgia and that nowhere had he been confronted with a spirit of optimism equal to that of the business men of Statesboro.

The following were elected and installed as permanent officers of the council:

J. P. Baker, Sublime Augustus.
C. L. Jones, Senior Tribune.
J. A. Spreng, Junior Tribune.
J. B. Averitt, Worthy First Censor.
T. E. Doves, Worthy Second Censor.
R. W. Sasser, Worthy Recorder.
J. C. Brown, Worthy Scribe.
A. W. Quattlebaum, Worthy Lygion.

R. W. Atkins, Worthy Sentinel.
Dr. J. H. Whitledge, Worthy Medical Examiner.
M. C. Fordham, Worthy Attorney.

The Praetorians have more than fifty charter members in Statesboro; and are striving for one hundred members during the month of April.

The second meeting will be held Tuesday night, March 28th with most of the charter members present. One candidate was given the full degree.

On April 11th the degree team from Savannah will come to Statesboro to put on the degree work.

The Praetorians will hold their regular meetings on the second and fourth Tuesday nights of each month, as adopted by the council.

R. W. SASSER, Dist. Deputy.

BERRIEN CONVICTED OF LARCENY AFTER TRUST

Atlanta, March 24.—R. N. Berrien, Jr., investment broker, was convicted by a jury in superior court, last night of larceny after trust in connection with a shortage in state school warrants and sentence was fixed at from three to five years. He was arrested recently in New York and returned for trial. The total shortage was said to have been about $45,000.

Berrien was convicted on an indictment charging larceny after trust of school warrants, for Murray county and his counsel announced an appeal to give the best service we can, but unless we have the help of our milk trusters in cleaning and setting out bottles each night, it makes it very hard on us as it is expensive to have so much money invested in bottles; and there is no one to take the expense of any business until they experience it.

In spite of the tight times of getting money, our expenses are getting higher, as bottles and caps have advanced, caps 50 per cent, bottles 25 per cent and gasoline about 20 per cent, although we are retailing milk every day, rain or shine, at the same prices as before the war.

Now, there is no business that can continue to run unless we have money. Hoping you will all consider what we have said and help us in our expense as will benefit each of you.

Thanking you for your past patronage and soliciting more in the future Yours truly,

Does All Farm Work

HERE is a tractor so far in advance of any tractor you have seen that it will make you figure power farming all over again.

Until we actually saw Cletrac F at work and learned its price, we did not believe it was possible to build a crawler-type tractor with chrome steel for every part subject to severe wear and sell it for so low a price.

Cletrac F is the value of the hour. Its power is ample to pull two 12 inch bottoms—to turn under 6 to 8 acres a day. In the same proportion it speeds up all other farm work—discing, seeding, haying, harvesting, hauling, belt work.

Lays its own tracks anywhere and everywhere you want it to go—automatically lubricated—all working parts accessible—handles any job on the farm—and its low price will meet your means today.

Remember this—here is a tractor against which old methods of farming cannot compete. We'll be glad to try it through any test or demonstration—without obligation to you—and stake our reputation on the result.

MISS McELVEEN WITH GREENVILLE CONCERN (Greenville, S. C., News.)

Miss Lottie McElveen, formerly of Statesboro, Ga., is now with Gilmer's department store, having come to Greenville some little time ago to take charge of the silk, dress goods and cotton piece goods departments.

Miss McElveen was formerly associated in the same mercantile establishment in Statesboro with L. C. Mann, assistant manager of Gilmer's, and comes to Greenville with the highest recommendations as a keen business woman. Both Mr. Mann and Miss McElveen made records as merchandisers in Georgia of any man or woman might be justly proud, and Manager G. C. Lowe stated yesterday that he felt very fortunate in having secured for his store the services of such an experienced and successful business woman as Miss McElveen to take charge of the departments over which she has supervision.

F. F. CLUB.

The F. F. Club met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Fitch, near Brooklet, last Friday evening. Lavender and white decorations, the club

ITEMS FROM GROVELAND.

A pleasant party composed of Mrs. Lesale L. Mann and Misses Beatie and Corn Lee Spahler and Messrs. Robert Lee Eddings and Orla Her, motored last week to Waynesville, Ga., where they were guests of Misses Gussie and Ruby Crandle.

The points of interest visited were Peachtree and Sulphur Springs. Several different affairs were given in honor of the guests, the most enjoyable being a moonlight dance at Georgetown.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Spahler and Mr. Brude DeLoach took a trip to the coast, where they were joined by the party from Waynesville. After enjoying the many good things that the briny deep affords, they returned home tired but happy.

Mrs. Lesale L. Mann and Miss Beatie Mae Spahler were the guests of Miss Ruby Martin Sunday.

Misses Mae and Maude Nesmith were pleasant visitors at the Spahler home Monday.

The many friends of Miss Katie Maude DeLoach will regret to learn of her serious illness in Denmark.

Friends are sorry to hear of Dr. Mrs. C. E. Stapleton's infant being very ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Mikell left for Charleston, S. C., to make their new home. Mr. Taylor Bennett accompanied them.

Mrs. Lelia Mitchell and Mr. Dickerson, of Savannah, were quietly married Tuesday.

A merry crowd of young people serenaded them Saturday night. We express hearty congratulations.

SIAMESE TWINS DIE AFTER BRIEF ILLNESS

PERMISSION WAS REFUSED BY BROTHER FOR SURGEONS TO SEPARATE BODIES.

Chicago, Ill., March 30.—Josefa and Rosa Blazek, the "Siamese Twins," died at a hospital here early this morning. Josefa's death occurred first and was followed in a few seconds by the death of her sister. Physicians had declared early in the night that in the event of the death of one of the sisters the other would die quickly, as their brother, Frank Blazek, had refused to permit an operation which would sever their bodies.

The twins had been in the hospital ten days. Josefa was ill with yellow jaundice and that was followed by pneumonia. Shortly before her death Rosa was afflicted with bronchitis.

Preparations had been made for the severing operation and the physicians were ready to make every effort to save the life of at least one of the women.

Hope of saving the life of Josefa was abandoned at midnight, according to Dr. B. H. Breakstone, chief of the surgical staff at the hospital.

"I tried to get the consent of the brother to operate to save the life of Rosa but he refused to give his permission," added the physician.

Dr. Breakstone explained a delicate operation would have been necessary. Before the death he had expressed the opinion that the psychological affinity of the twins was so vital that if one had died the other might not succumb before the hand of death and bone that joined them could be severed.

Although the twins possessed separate respiratory and cardiac systems, Dr. Breakstone explained that they had only one set of secondary digestive and procreative organs. The operation, he said, would have necessitated the building up of a part of the digestive and other essential organs to save the life of one twin. Rosa was once married, her name being Rosa Blazek Drenk. She is survived by a normal 11-year-old boy. Her husband was a captain in the German army and was killed in action in 1917. She was married 15 years before Josefa was born.

The little son, Frank, has been at the bedside of his mother, who until within the last few hours was less critically ill than Josefa.

The twins were the second offspring of a normal percentage in Czechoslovakia twenty-two years ago. There were four other children, all normal and still living. The mother, who is now 45, his age being 36 years. The mother died a year ago at the age of 45 years.

During a tour of the world, the twins acquired considerable wealth. They died without making a will, although their attorney, J. L. Triska, had been at the hospital several days in the hope that they would be in condition to dictate the document.

As the women grew weaker last night, physicians pleaded with the brother to permit an operation, hospital attendants stated. He was the only adult relative capable under the Illinois law of giving his consent. "No," the brother was quoted as saying, "no, not even if Rosa lives for shall I see her operation."

Dr. J. Otravsky, personal physician of the twins, appealed to the brother without success. Their attorney was asked to intervene but he declined to assume responsibility.

Medical records recalled by physicians who have been interested in the case disclosed a number of so-called Siamese twins, Chang and Eng, lived to the age of 64. They married sisters, and Chang had six children and Eng five, all of them normal. Eng died first, and a surgeon separated them. Chang died attracted worldwide fame included the Hindu sisters, who were joined face to face, the connection being at the chest; the Orissa sisters, Radica and Daddica, joined side to side; the Biddenden maids, connected shoulder to shoulder, with only two arms; the Hungarian sisters, Helen and Judith, joined back to back; and the lower segment of the spine, and the North Carolina sisters, Millie and Christine, joined as were the Hungarian sisters; and the Bohemian twins, Rosella and Josefa, connected in the same manner as the twins who just died. Their connection was through the pelvis, the right hip of one and the left hip of the other being fused together.

YOUNG CANDLER MAN COMMITS SUICIDE

GEORGE TURNER PUTS SHOT-GUN TO HIS MOUTH AND TRIPS THE TRIGGER.

Metter, Ga., April 4.—Brooding over family troubles is assigned, as the cause of the suicide of George Turner about 9 o'clock this morning at the home of his brother-in-law, Andrew Hadden. Turner was about 21 years of age, a son of E. F. Turner, residing in the vicinity of Wolf Creek school, between Metter and Cobbtown.

The body of Turner was discovered by a little girl who passed the Hadden home about 11 o'clock, and who reported it to the home of young Turner's father, that his son was lying on the veranda of the Hadden home with the back of his head blown off.

The neighbors quickly gathered and a telephone message to Metter was to the effect that the young man had met his death through foul play. The Hadden family was away from home and, so far as is known, no one witnessed the suicide.

Sheriff J. H. Flynn was notified and he summoned a physician, Judge T. D. Joiner and several other citizens and three. Since then the body has lain in a cold storage room.

The dead man was found lying on his side with a gaping hole in the back of his head and his brains scattered over the rafters and shingles of the uncelled front porch. The body was examined by Dr. W. B. Simmons and the coroner's jury which was then paneled, and it was found that there were powder burns around the young man's mouth. The double-barreled shotgun lying near the body with one discharged shell in it and the forked stick tightly grasped in the hand of the young man showed plainly the manner of his death. There could be no doubt that he had placed the barrel of the gun in his mouth and discharged the weapon with the stick which he still held after death seized him.

This jury, after considering all the visible evidence and taking testimony arrived at the verdict that the deceased came to his death by his own hand.

Young Turner left no note or message to indicate why he should have taken his own life. A check book and $1.60 in money were found on a chair near the body. According to statements of neighbors, the young man was making his home with his father, with whom recently he had had several disputes, it being reported that his father had ordered him to leave home.

The funeral of the unfortunate young man took place at Primitive Grove church, the Rev. Sanders of Brooklet conducting the services. Surviving the deceased are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elisha Turner, three sisters, Mrs. Andrew Hadden, Misses Julia and Sallie Turner, and three brothers, Logan, Nancy and Teatom Turner.
